

Location

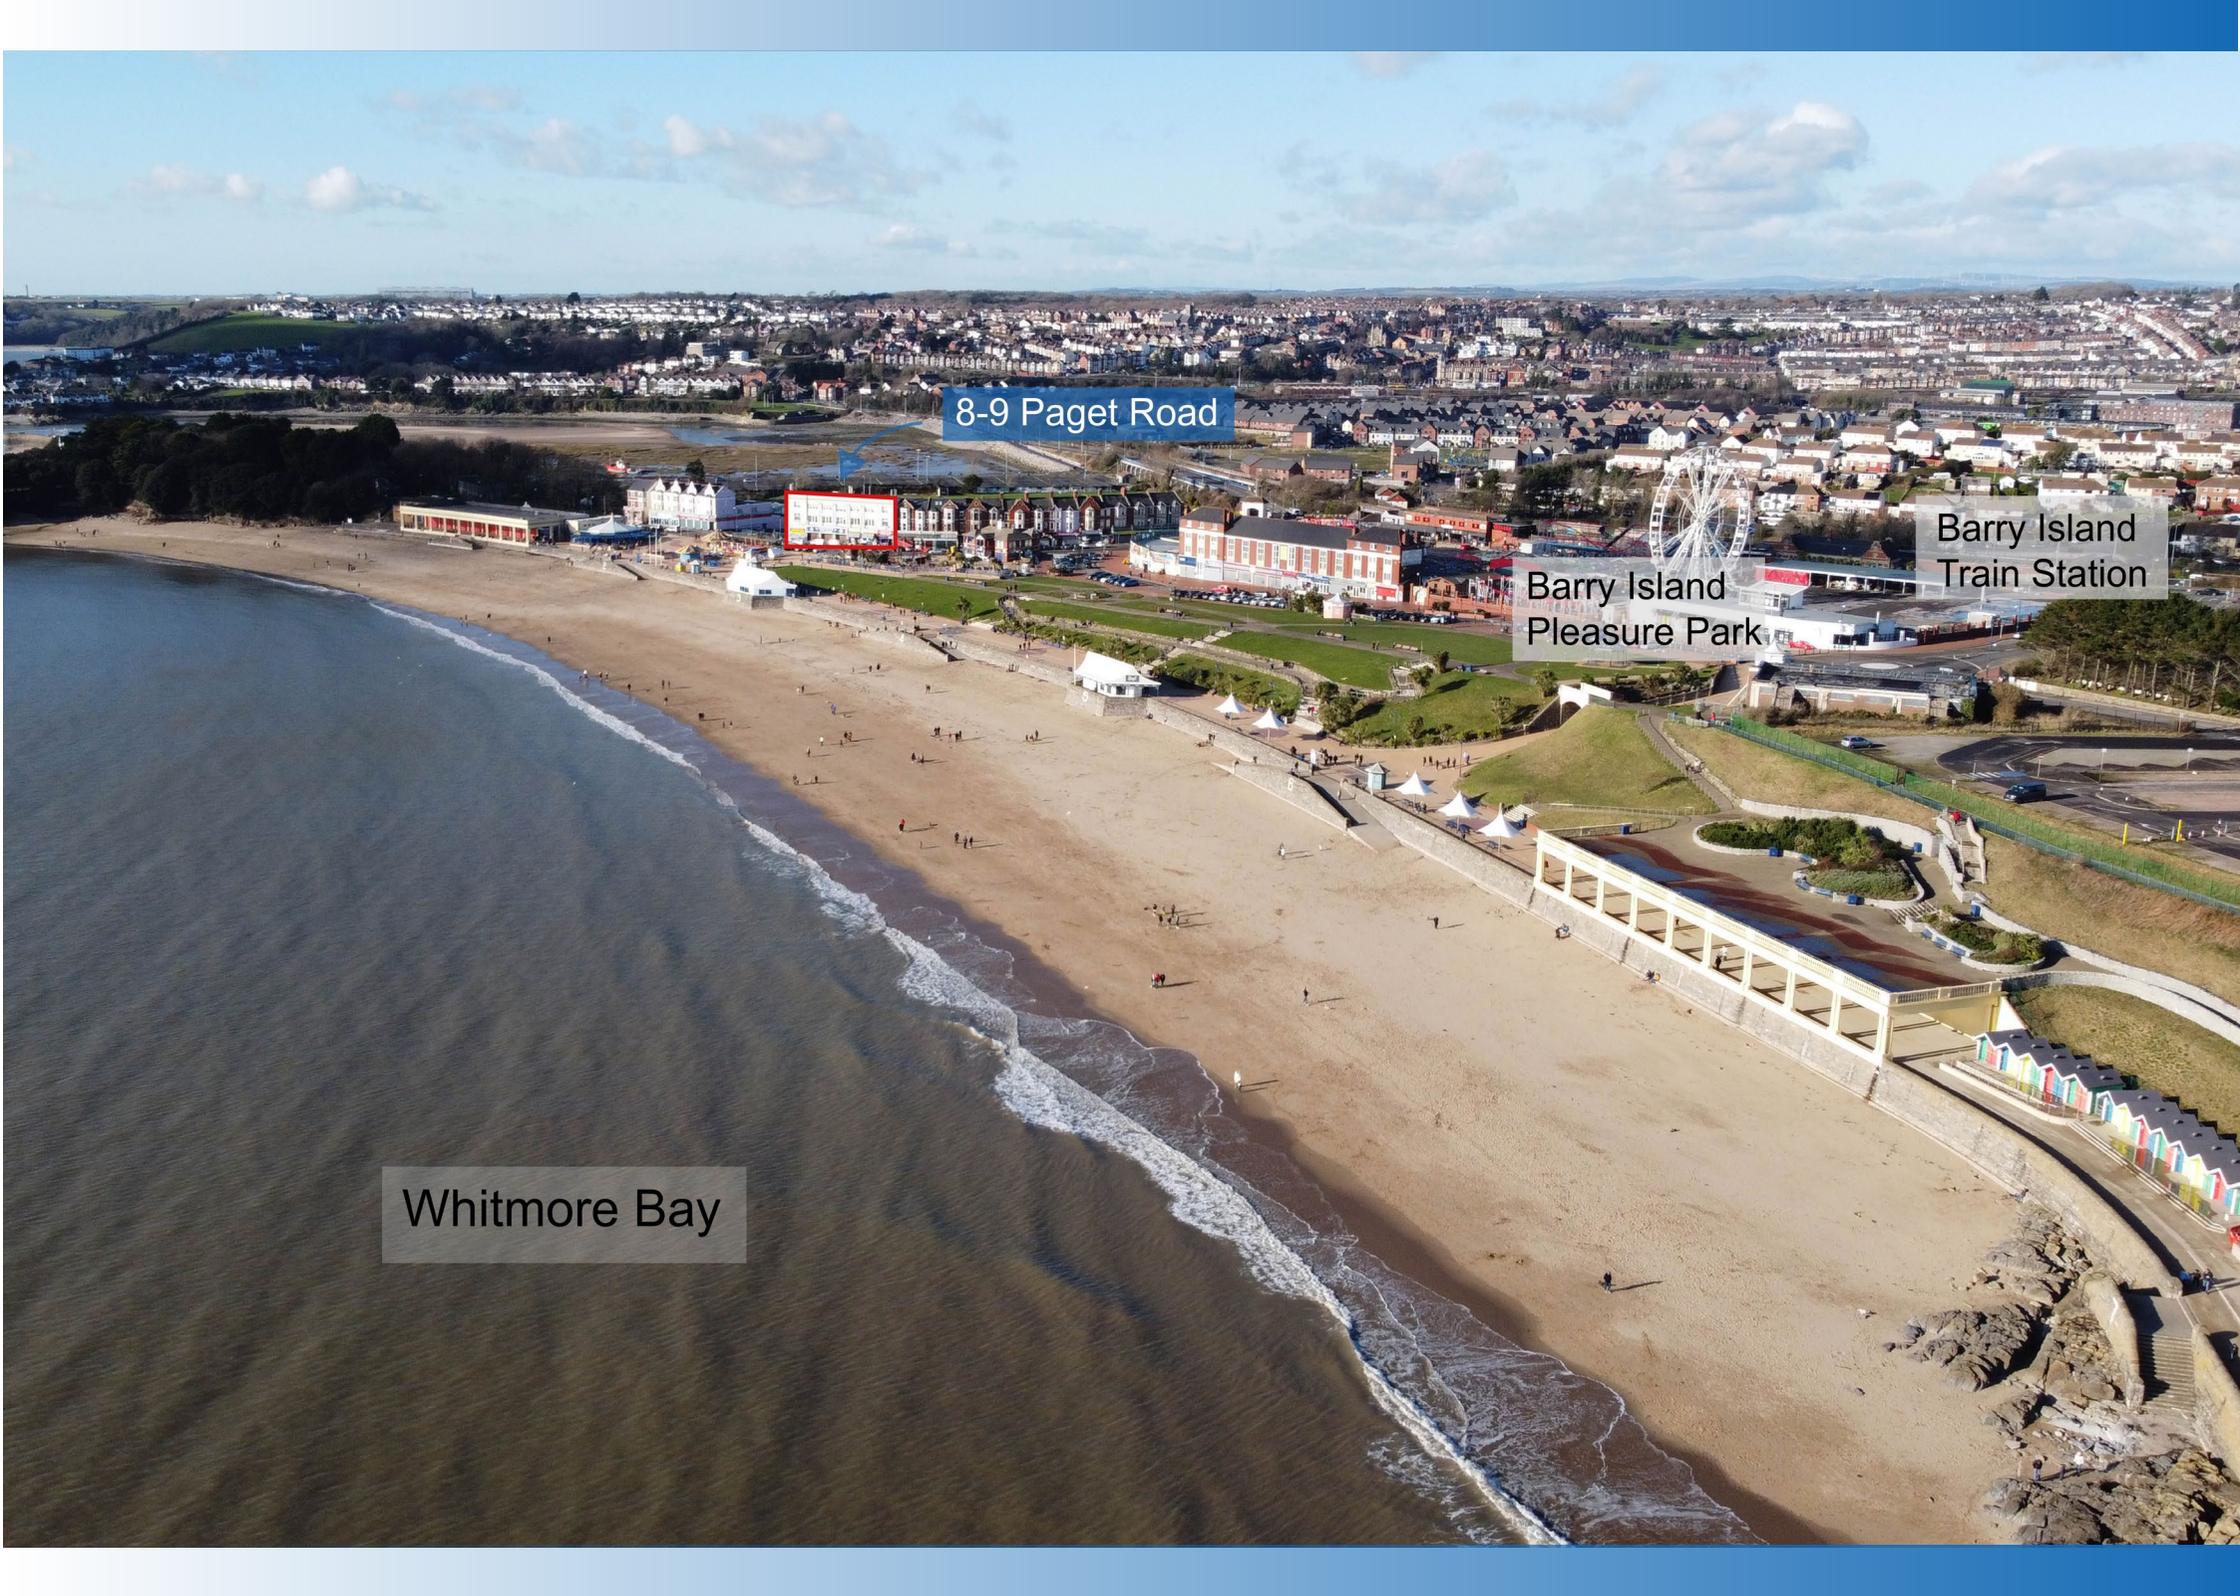

Barry town is located within the Vale of Glamorgan county borough in south Wales. Cardiff is situated 10 miles north east and Swansea 43 miles north west. Barry Island is a seaside resort located on the peninsula approximately 2 miles to the south of Barry town centre.

Barry island has attracted visitors since the 1870's with its golden beaches, cafes and family amusements. It was originally an island until the 1880's when it linked the mainland following the development of the dockland. Barry Island is an established holiday destination with its own train station, pleasure park and hotels. Most recently, Whitmore Bay Beach has undergone significant refurbishment including a sweeping promenade along the entire length of the beach.

Barry Island train station is within a 5 minute walk of the property. There are a number of bus routes that serve the immediate area.

To access Barry Island by car, follow the A4050 though Barry then on to Harbour Road.

Development Potential and Planning

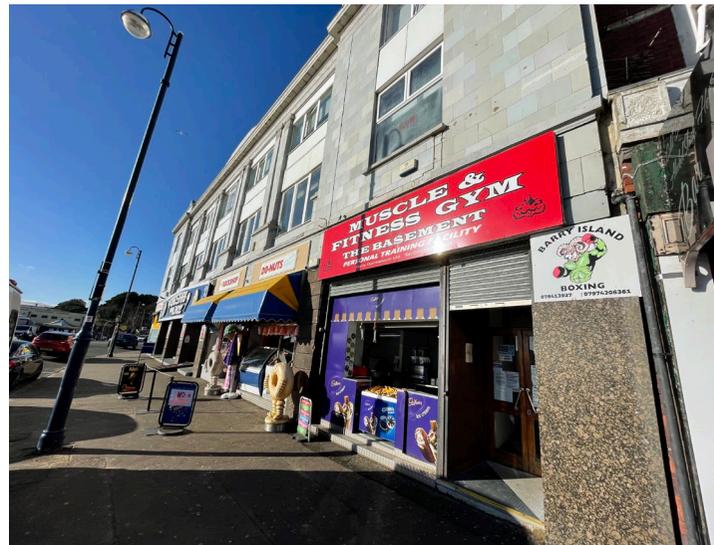

There is clear development potential for the site given the size and location. Potential options could be a residential led scheme or mixed use with an element of commercial at first floor and/or basement. A number of nearby properties have undergone extensive works for conversion to apartments.

We understand the first floor was granted planning permission for the conversion of the gym into 3 two bed apartments in 2005. This planning has now lapsed. Historic planning reference is – 2005/00558/FUL.
